WELCOME

rents, Teachers and Film Enthusiasts

I am very delighted to welcome you all to the 3rd edition of Karachi International Children's Film Festival 2013, to celebrate some of the best films made for, by and about children and young people from around the world.

This year is very special for us. The Festival celebrates its continuation to 3rd year and is an international competition of films of various genres for the first time this year. I am thankful to the jury members who contributed and made it possible, and all the filmmakers who submitted nearly 450 films from across the world.

We started the Children's Film Festival in Lahore in 2008, and just finished the 5th edition of the Festival from 16-21 October, 2013. Nearly 21,000 children and young people attended the 5th Lahore international Children's Film Festival.

I welcome you all to enjoy the Festival.

Let's entertain, inspire and educate!

THE LITTLE ART

The Little Art is a registered non-profit arts education organization, which carries a mission to establish arts in Pakistan as a major facilitator for children and young people to realize and achieve their dreams; through innovative arts education projects and creative learning opportunities.

We use the medium of art to promote positive social values through innovative learning opportunities among children and young people, specially marginalized and from low-income backgrounds.

We are member of; International Association of Theatre for Children and Young People (ASSITEG) International Center of Films for Children and Young People (CIFEJ)

South Asian Children's Cinema Forum (SACCF)

Teachers' Resource Centre

The Teachers' Resource Centre (TRC) is a non-profit, non-government organisation, established standards of education in both government and private sector schools. We are registered under the Societies Act XXI of 1860, and are tax exempt under section 47 (i) (d) of the income tax rules. An elected Governing Body representing schools that use

ationists formed TRC as a response

our services manages TRC. We have a dedicated staff of full-time and part-time personnel, who carry out all TRC activities. Our membership consists of institutional members, predominantly schools and school networks.
